TERMS OF REFERENCE / SCOPE OF WORKS

DRILLING OF BOREHOLES

GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF DRILLING WORKS

The services to be rendered under this Contract include the drilling, insertion of steel casing and blow yield testing of one (1) water borehole at the Napier Sportfield in the Cape Agulhas Municipal Area, Overberg District. The borehole will be drilled in a position indicated by the municipality. The final depth of the borehole is not expected to be more than 120 m and the final casing internal diameter is not to be less than 165 mm.

DESCRIPTION OF SITE AND ACCESS

The drilling site at Napier is in the town at the new Sportfield, which is situated approximately 200 km east of Cape Town in the Overberg District of the Western Cape Province. The drill site is next to a gravel road and is easily accessible.

Accommodation facilities and water are available in Napier at the tenderer’s expense.

NATURE OF SURFACE, GEOLOGICAL AND DRILLING CONDITIONS

The borehole at Napier are expected to penetrate ±3-6 m of unconsolidated sand and loose rocks, followed by c.34 m of weathered to fresh shale of the Bokkeveld Group, followed by sandstones of the Rietvlei Formation of the Table Mountain Group (TMG). Drilling conditions are rated as good to fair with moderately hard rock, the latter which can be fractured in narrow, 0.5 - 2 m wide, zones. Fairly large blow-yields of up to 10 L/s or more may occur.

DRILLING SPECIFICATIONS

APPROACH AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The Drilling Contractor will function under the direct supervision of the Cape Agulhas Municipality. This does not imply that the Drilling Contractor is absolved from any responsibility, but rather that all drilling activities will be approached through communication and discussion between the Municipality and the Drilling Contractor with a view to developing the most suitable and mutually acceptable finished product.

DRILLING EQUIPMENT AND MATERIALS

The Drilling Contractor will provide all labour, transport, plant, tools, materials including water for drilling and appurtenances necessary to satisfactorily complete the drilling programme as to the specifications determined by the Municipality’s representative. It is imperative that the Drilling Contractor supplies equipment of a suitable size and capability to drill the boreholes up to 120 m if so required, accommodates large quantities of water (in excess of 10 L/s) and overcome, if necessary, difficult drilling conditions. The compressor supplied by the Drilling Contractor should have a capacity of at least 2400 kPa (24 bar) and a volume of at least 750 cfm.

Equipment brought onto the site may not be removed there from without the written permission of the Municipality's representative. It will be the responsibility of the Contractor to arrive on the site with all equipment, materials and chemicals required to complete the work without interruption. Failure to do this could result in penalties being charged at rates equivalent to those tendered for standing time by the contractor.

The Municipality’s representative will have the right to inspect the equipment to be used prior to the commencement of the work. If the Municipality considers the plant in use on the site of the Works is in any way inefficient or inadequate in capacity, he will have the right to call upon the Contractor to put such equipment in order within seven (7) days or, alternatively, to remove such plant and replace it with other plant or equipment which he considers necessary to meet the requirements of the Contract.

In the event that this requirement is not satisfied, the Municipality reserves the right to terminate the Contract immediately.

DRILLING TECHNIQUES AND CAPABILITY

The preferred drilling technique is rotary air-percussion (DTH).
BOREHOLE CONSTRUCTION

The upper soil cover and shale will be penetrated by drilling 254 mm (12") diameter rotary air-percussion. This will be followed by the insertion of 219 mm OD solid steel casing. The bottom of the casing must be seated in solid bedrock to prevent ingress of sand and the weathered shale.

The borehole will then be deepened by drilling 203 mm rotary air-percussion to a depth of approximately 40 m, where after 177 mm OD x 4.5 mm wall steel casing be inserted. The borehole will be deepened to 120 m by using a 165 mm drill bit. If unstable rock formations are intersected below 40 m, 125 mm OD class 12 uPVC casing and screens (1 mm slots). A gravel pack will be inserted around the slotted casing.

The borehole design will depend on the hydrogeological conditions encountered in the borehole and the Municipality's representative will determine final construction and depth in collaboration and agreement with the drilling contractor.

CASING

The wall thickness of the steel casing must be a minimum of 4.5 mm and uPVC casing class 12.

All casing to be used on the project must meet project specification by being new, seam welded, round, straight, and with a uniform wall thickness of not less than 4.5 mm.

Perforated, or slotted, steel / uPVC casing is to be installed where a casing string inserted into a borehole will extend across a water-bearing horizon. The perforations or slots will allow the groundwater to enter the borehole. These perforations or slots must be prefabricated to ensure that they are uniform, straight and free of clogging or bridging material. Steel casing slots should be 300 mm in length, 3-4 mm wide and positioned in bands around the circumference of the casing.

A typical example of slotted steel casing is described in Drawing No. 1 (Section 5).

BOREHOLE STRAIGHTNESS

At completion of construction of each borehole a straightness test must be carried out in the presence of the Municipality's representative. For this the Drilling Contractor must have the necessary equipment on the site at all times.

This test is carried out by lowering a "dummy" on the end of a steel rope through the borehole. The "dummy" consists of a rigid hollow steel pipe with an outside diameter, which is not less than 20 mm smaller in diameter than the borehole casing. The "dummy" is to be at least 6 m in length to ensure that it straddles the casing joints in the borehole.

The borehole will be considered straight if the "dummy" passes down the entire length of the borehole and can be withdrawn without it binding or becoming stuck in the borehole. A borehole, which fails a straightness test, will be deemed lost and the Drilling Contractor will be required to drill a replacement borehole at his own expense.

LOST BOREHOLES

A borehole will be declared lost by the Municipality's representative in the event that it cannot be completed satisfactorily due to factors such as the irrecoverable loss of drilling equipment, materials or tools therein, accidents to plant or heavy machinery, failure to pass a straightness or verticality test. The Drilling Contractor will then have the option to remedy the situation to the satisfaction of the Municipality's representative or, alternatively, to declare the situation irretrievable. No payment shall be made for any work done, materials used or time spent by the Drilling Contractor on a lost borehole. Furthermore, the cost of any materials recovered in a damaged state from a lost borehole will be borne by the Drilling Contractor.
A borehole that is declared lost shall be replaced with a new borehole to be constructed by the Drilling Contractor at a position indicated by the Municipality’s representative.

All lost and unsuccessful boreholes are to be equipped with a standpipe, sanitary seal and concrete collar. The concrete mixture shall consist of water, Portland cement, stone aggregate (10 mm) and clean sand. The dimensions of this collar are indicated in Drawing No. 1.

DATA RECORDING AND REPORTING

A detailed and accurate record of all information arising from the borehole drilling activity must be recorded. The information to be recorded by the Drilling Contractor includes the following:

Penetration rate: This represents the time taken, as measured with a stop watch, to advance the borehole one meter.

Formation sampling: A representative spadeful of drilling chips should be collected at the mouth of the borehole for each meter drilled. The "samples" are to be placed in clear plastic bags in sequential piles in ordered rows of 20 m each, at a cleared site away from the immediate activity around the borehole being drilled. This area must be fenced off with danger tape to prevent staff and visitors from trampling on the samples.

Fracture intersection: This information relates to the depth at which fracturing, and possible water intersection (including seepage) occurs. The depth(s) at which the fracture(s) or water is encountered must be recorded to an accuracy of at least 1 m.

Blow yield & samples: Water encountered at depth the yield must be measured and recorded immediately following each water strike. The most acceptable and preferred means of measurement is provided by the use of a 90° V-notch weir. Alternatively, the "drum and stopwatch" technique can be used for blow yields that are less than 2 L/s. A 250 ml water sample must also be collected at each water strike. The sample bottles must be marked clearly with a permanent marking pen, i.e. date, borehole number, depth and blow yield.

Groundwater level: The groundwater level must be measured (with a dip-meter) and recorded in the register before the start of each day's drilling.

Drilling register: Daily drilling progress will be recorded in a drilling register by the Municipality’s representative and this register is to be signed at the end of each day’s drilling by both the Drilling Contractor and the Municipality’s representative. The drilling register will be supplied by the Drilling Contractor and kept by the Drilling Foremen. A signed copy of the days register will be handed to the Municipality’s representative at the end of each day.

COMPLETION OF BOREHOLE

Once casing has been installed, the annular space between the borehole sidewall and the outside of the casing must be filled with suitable material in this case gravel (6 mm). This backfilling must extend to within 5 m of the ground surface.

The Drilling Contractor must construct a shallow concrete collar around the successful borehole. The concrete mixture shall consist of water, Portland cement, stone aggregate (10 mm) and clean sand. The dimensions of this collar are indicated in Drawing No. 2. All successful boreholes are to be protected by a welded on steel plate.

On completion of work, the Drilling Contractor shall tidy the site by clearing and removing all foreign material brought onto the site. Drill chips are to be levelled and the site rehabilitated to the satisfaction of the Municipality’s representative and the set of keys for the padlock handed over to the Municipality’s representative.

BOREHOLE DISINFECTION

Also known as sterilisation, the purpose hereof is to disinfect the borehole and its contents of any bacteria, and particularly coliform bacteria, introduced into the borehole during drilling operations. Sterilisation is most readily accomplished by introducing chlorine (or chlorine-yielding compounds) into the borehole. Commercially available chlorine-yielding products include: (1) calcium hypochlorite (CaCIO₂) in granular or tablet form, (2) sodium hypochlorite (NaCIO) in aqueous form and (3) chlorinated lime. Preference is given to the use of sodium hypochlorite since it does not contain calcium, which may react with the natural concentration of calcium in the groundwater to form a precipitate of calcium hydroxide causing a reduction in the natural permeability of water bearing formation materials. It is generally required to establish a chlorine concentration of some 1 000 mg/l in the borehole.
This must necessarily take into account: (1) the volume of water in the borehole and (2) the concentration of available chlorine also referred to as free-chlorine in the sterilant. A formula by which the amount (either by volume or by weight) of sterilant required can be estimated is given as:

where \( V_W \) = volume of water in the borehole (in litres), \( C_d \) = desired concentration of available chlorine (in mg/l) and \( C_S \) = concentration of available chlorine in the sterilant (in mg/l).

Since the concentration of available chlorine in the sterilant is often given as a percentage, it is required that this be converted to mg/l units. This is achieved simply by multiplying the trade percentage by 10 000, viz. 70 percent available chlorine is equivalent to a chlorine concentration of 700 000 mg/l. Guideline volumes/weights of common compounds to be used for sterilisation purposes under most normal circumstances can be derived from the information provided in Table 0-2.

Table 0-2: Guideline volumes/weights of common sterilants to be used per unit volume of water for various borehole diameters.

NOTES:
1. No distinction is drawn between open and cased portions of a borehole since these differences are considered to have a negligible impact on calculated unit volumes.
2. The trade percentage of chlorine in the listed sterilants is taken to be: 3.5 percent by volume (35 ml/l) for sodium hypochlorite, 70 percent by weight (700 g/kg) for calcium hypochlorite and 20 percent by weight (200 g/kg) for chlorinated lime.

EXAMPLE: A 100-metre deep borehole with a nominal diameter of 165 mm and with a rest water level standing at a depth of 25 m below surface will require 75 x 30 g = 2,250 g (2.25 kg), alternatively 75 x ½ cup = 24 cups, of calcium hypochlorite to achieve adequate disinfection. The same situation would require 75 x 600 ml = 45 000 ml (45 L) of sodium hypochlorite to achieve adequate disinfection. Since any disinfectant agent destroys only the bacteria it contacts, simply pouring the solution into the borehole does not promote complete disinfection. This can be achieved by agitating the water in the borehole to effect thorough mixing with the disinfectant. Alternatively, the required amount of granular, dry compound (calcium hypochlorite) can be placed in a short, perforated tube capped at both ends, suspended from a cable or rope and then raised and lowered through the column of water in the borehole until all the compound is dissolved.

Use of calcium hypochlorite: The required quantity of this compound can either be dissolved in clean, clear water or introduced in dry form as described above. If introduced as a solution, the required quantity should be dissolved using ten litres of water per kilogram of compound. For the example provided in Table 2, this means dissolving 2.25 kg of calcium hypochlorite in 22.5 L of water. The calcium hypochlorite solution must then be poured into the borehole. Granular HTH chlorine is an example of such a compound.

Use of sodium hypochlorite: The required volume of this solution may be poured directly into the borehole without further treatment (such as premixing/blending with clean, clear water). Concentrated household bleach (e.g. JIK) is an example of such a solution.

Use of chlorinated lime: The same procedure as described for calcium hypochlorite should be followed.
2.1.11 GENERAL

1. The position of the drilling site will be indicated by the Municipality's representative.

2. The Municipality’s representative will have the right to reject, with motivation, any material (including casing, gravel pack) that is deemed inappropriate, substandard or otherwise unsuitable for the project.

3. No accommodation is provided and staff toilet facilities remain the responsibility of the Drilling Contractor. For this purpose the Drilling Contractor will supply an on-site portable chemical toilet.

5. No drilling is to be carried out without the Municipality's representative being present, unless instructed otherwise by the Municipality's representative.

6. The drill-site will be clearly demarcated with snow fencing and a sign put up stating “Construction Site – No Unauthorized Entry”.

4.3 Unless stated otherwise, items are measured net and Tenderers must allow for waste in their tendered rates.

4.4 All rates and sums of money quoted in the SoR shall be in Rands and whole Cents. Fractions of a cent shall be discounted.

4.5 No quantities are set out in the SoR. The quantities of work accepted and certified for payment shall be used for determining payments to the Contractor.

4.6 Except where Provisional Sums have been indicated, Tenderers shall enter an applicable rate in the Rate Column of the SoR for each scheduled item. The Contractor will not be paid for items against which no rate has been entered on the presumption that they do not wish to receive payment for any such work.

4.7 Tenderers are at liberty to insert a rate of their own choosing for each item in the SoR and in this regard their attention is drawn to the fact that the Contractor has the right, under various circumstances, to payment for additional works carried out and that the Client is obliged to base its assessment of the rates to be paid for such additional work on the rates inserted in the SoR by the Contractor.

4.8 The Contract Price for the completed work shall be computed from the actual quantities of authorised work done as certified by the Municipality’s representative valued at rates tendered against the respective items in the SoR and shall include authorised provisional sums and items of extra work as become payable in terms of the Contract.

4.9 Tenderers must price each item in the SoR in BLACK INK.

4.10 The individual rates tendered for all work to be done or material to be supplied shall not be adjusted if the actual contract price for the completed Contract is different from the approximate expected value of the works, but shall remain fixed for the period of the Contract.
4.11 The abbreviations used in the SoR are defined as follows:

- m = metre
- no = number
- mm = millimetre
- kg = kilogram
- h = hour

Any tender submitted that do not meet ALL of the requirements in this document will automatically be discarded from the evaluation process.

TAX COMPLIANCE STATUS

It is a condition of bid that the taxes of the successful bidder must be in order, or that satisfactory arrangements have been made with South African Revenue Service (SARS) to meet the bidder’s tax obligations.

1. In order to meet this requirement bidders are required to request their Tax Compliance Status which will include a unique PIN which you can provide to any third party (if requested) to enable them to verify your tax compliance status online via eFiling.

2. Request a TCC via eFiling which will give you the option to print the TCC Or request a TCC at a SARS branch where a SARS agent will be able to print or email the TCC to you.

3. The Tax Compliance Status Requirements are also applicable to foreign bidders / individuals who wish to submit bids.

4. A Tax Compliance Status is a holistic view of your tax compliance level across all your registered tax types.

5. If your tax compliance status is compliant, the SARS agent will be able to print or email you your TCC to the registered email address which SARS has on record for you.

6. Please note: If your tax compliance status reflects that you are non-compliant, you will not receive a TCC until you have rectified your compliance.

7. The Tax Compliance status pin or a printed Tax Clearance certificate must be submitted together with the bid. Failure to submit a Tax Compliance status pin or a printed Tax Clearance certificate will result in the invalidation of the tender.

8. In bids where Consortia / Joint Ventures / Sub-contractors are involved, each party must submit a separate Tax Compliance Pin and printed TCC.

9. Please note that not all government institutions and private organisations will be able to utilise the Tax Compliance Status PIN at this stage and in such instances, you must supply a printed TCC. It is envisaged that the PIN will, in time, replace the paper TCC.

CERTIFICATE OF INDEPENDENT BID DETERMINATION

1 This Municipal Bidding Document (MBD) must form part of all bids¹ invited.

2 Section 4 (1) (b) (iii) of the Competition Act No. 89 of 1998, as amended, prohibits an agreement between, or concerted practice by, firms, or a decision by an association of firms, if it is between parties in a horizontal relationship and if it involves collusive bidding (or bid rigging).² Collusive bidding is a pe se prohibition meaning that it cannot be justified under any grounds.

3 Municipal Supply Regulation 38 (1) prescribes that a supply chain management policy must provide measures for the combating of abuse of the supply chain management system, and must enable the accounting officer, among others, to:
   a. take all reasonable steps to prevent such abuse;
   b. reject the bid of any bidder if that bidder or any of its directors has abused the supply chain management system of the municipality or municipal entity or has committed any improper conduct in relation to such system; and
   c. cancel a contract awarded to a person if the person committed any corrupt or fraudulent act during the bidding process or the execution of the contract.

4 This MBD serves as a certificate of declaration that would be used by institutions to ensure that, when bids are considered, reasonable steps are taken to prevent any form of bid-rigging.

5 In order to give effect to the above, the attached Certificate of Bid Determination (MBD 9) must be completed and submitted with the bid:

² Bid rigging (or collusive bidding) occurs when businesses, that would otherwise be expected to compete, secretly conspire to raise prices or lower the quality of goods and / or services for purchasers who wish to acquire goods and / or services through a bidding process. Bid rigging is, therefore, an agreement between competitors not to compete.
